THALASSOTHERAPY & SPA CENTERS

Pamper your self at our Thalassotherapy and Spa centres - two of the biggest in South-eastern Europe (4.700 m² & 2.275 m²). Thalassotherapy is the therapeutic use of the sea, its climate, and marine products like algae, seaweed, and alluvial mud. The name comes from the Greek words "thalassa" (the sea) and "therapia" (treat). The principle behind thalassotherapy is that repeated exposure to sea air and immersion in warm seawater, mud, clay, and protein-rich algae, helps restore the body's natural chemical balance. Seawater and human plasma are very similar. More than sixty trace elements, minerals, and vitamins that our bodies need are contained in sea water.
